shows our makeover winner Emma Spaeth that using correct colours for hair, makeup and clothing can not only change your image it can change your life.

Emma Spaeth

Emma is a busy Mother of four including 10 month old twins so time is a huge factor in her life. She has also recently lost a lot of weight and was ready to get out of her comfortable clothes and into something more sexy and sophisticated. She currently lives in jeans and T-shirts, so I have given her three fresh new looks! Deanne.

Hair Stylist Marissa

Emma is a busy mother of four so she doesn't often pamper herself so we created a new hairstyle for her which will be easy to maintain. Emma has very curly hair that is hard to maintain, so her style cut was kept simple but funky by removing some exterior length, keeping her interior layers short to give her natural curls more movement.

Due to having children, Emma had lost a lot of hair especially from around her hairline, so a short fringe and shaped layers around her face blended in her new hair growth. After discussing her lifestyle and home hair care regime we decided that her colour should be kept subtle but still combined some low lights along with some gorgeous copper slices to jazz it up. It's a style cut and colour which looks great when left in her natural curls or when blow-dried and styled with the iron. How great does Emma look now!!!

Emma's Make-up

Emma is not a girl who wears a lot of make-up but she told me she loves a lot of colour and would wear it if she knew how. As I do the make-up for all the outfits I have gone for a more evening look. I have gone with the Smoky Look but I have used purple rather than black as the accent colour to complement the outfit she was wearing in the casual section. This smoky look can be achieved with any colour as the accent and looks so sexy and elegant.

Formal

Emma is also attending a formal wedding next year. A classic black and white cocktail dress. Each and every client has an exact length that flatters them the most to show off their legs and give them a great line to their bodies and this dress does that for Emma. The dress also has that black panel down the front which gives Emma height and shape. It is simple and elegant and slimming, just what every girl wants in her wardrobe.

Casual

I have teamed up chocolate pants which are a jersey so they fall beautifully and more importantly are comfortable. Emma wanted some colour injected into her casual wardrobe so I have gone with a purple top that with the pleating down the front has a point of difference and is also flattering to the figure.

Smart

Emma and her husband are attending two weddings this year. I have gone for a very sophisticated yet young and sexy outfit. The Black Wide Leg Pants are as in the Casual Pant a Jersey Lycra Blend so they fall so perfectly and they fit Emma really well. Black is a slimming colour provided the article of clothing is the right size. I have put the pants with this fabulous top which has the wow factor. It is a combination of black and silver and is not over the top bling but the cut is also very flattering as it shows Emma off.
